culosis is tremendous. When the word is speken one instructively thinks of pulmonary consumption. This is the form which attacks adults and which we see daily gathering in its victims. There are other forms, however, more common in children, that levy tribtie upon them without calling aftention to the relationship between these circuses and consumption of the limus.

Dr. Jacobi is authority for the statement that Tuberculosis kills as many people, old and young, as diphtheria croup, whooring cough, sentiating, measter and typhoid fever taken to-getter," in all of our cities active steps have been taken to proceed the reople from the above named discases. Tatil quite recently, however, a few years at most, nothing was done to reduce the mortality from tubererdosts.

Now, however, the attention of the world, the common people and the beath authorities, has been called to its curnbuity and presentability

The causes, the modes of scatters ing, and the prevention are all being studied, and an educational campaign is on to wipe out this "white terror."

The children suffer from inheren-losis of the bones, the bowers and lymph glands. Tubercular mening the is frequently found in early life and is those antions to benefit by their heal-imformly first. Only by careful attempt properties are very primitive. The fact that over one hatt of all babies born die before they reach the age of five years, proves that the 'conetitutional capital" bequeathed them ts small. Is the proper attention paid to the diet, exercise and out-of-door life of the mother? If this were done, the child would undoubtedly have greater vitality and could by proper care and education live above the fuherculosis of childhood and of adult Cause and Cure of Gastric Catarrh.

Chronic congestion of the stomach, known as gustric catarrb, is usually caused by one of the following errors or by all of them put tegether. Eating too much or too fast; swallowing tood insufficiently masticated; the use of such coarse foods as cabbage, greens, etc.; mustard, peppersauce ginger and other condiments and spices; pastry containing animal fats. free fats, which lodge in the stomach and remain there a long time; pork, griddle cakes and burned fats-these the things that produce gastric entarrh.

The first and most necessary step in the treatment of this disease is to remove the cause of the trouble. We may induce activity of the skin by hot applications followed by cold or not bath fellowed by a short application of cold; fomontations followed by a short cold application to the stomach. These treatments are useful, but the most important factor is the regulation of the dist. A fruit diet is best, for the reason that in sastric catarrh there is a great necumula tion of germs, which are destroyed by non juice. A well-prepared diet of teasted bread rwielsack granose obcuit, etc., is also useful in these:

If fresh air will cure the discuse, it is certainly a wonderful preventive of it. It is and more reasonable to deliberately breathe impure air than it is to drink impure water or to cat unhealthful food or wear infected clothing.

Tender-Hearted Savages.

One of the most anomalous features of our Christian civilization is the slaughter house, especially the abattoirs of our great cities, where veritable torrents of blood perpetually now, the ebbing life of millions of innocents which die that man may feast.

Indians are not noted for being over-sensitive; and particularly despine any exhibition of weakness. The interior of a slaughter-bouse, however, is said to have proved too much for their powers of self-control. The Chicago Record states that "a party of ufteen Blackfoot Indians recently visited the killing room of Armour's plant. One fainted, three more were ill, the rest covered up their eyes They were hurrled out of the place into the fresh air."

A Good Reform.

The abominable practice of wear-ing long skirts for the street is dying out. Pretty as it is to see a summer

The number of deaths due to inher- | dress negligently trailed over smooth lawn jeweled with daisies, the sight of a woman dragging her gown street, sweeping up the filth and collecting millions of microbes, is a revolting speciacle; and yet with a long shirt the only alternative is to hold it up, a practice which induces cramp in the arm, as well as cold fingers in winter, and gives a decidedly ungraceful walk and atti-Inde.

A Cure for Cold Feet.

An excellent and simple remedy for cold feet is the application of cold water. Step into the hathtub, let the rold water run in a little faster than it runs out. Standing in the water, rub one foot with the other, rapidly, ten or twelve times. Then change and treat the other foot in the same menner. Keep up this alternate rubbing for about three minutes. The feet will have become very red, and as you step out of the water, you will find them burning and glowing with the warm blood brought into them by this

Some Chinese Baths.

A traveler in Mongolia writes There are some hot springs on the read about twenty miles north of Chingpeng. The place is named Tangshan. The arrangements for those anxious to benefit by their healthe size of an ordinary packing case is ranged beside the road. For here inxurious bathers there is accommodation in a pool which has been dug out close by. In this they squat, scooping up the water and pouring it over their hears with brass basins. is curious to reflect that establishments like Homburg and Aix-les-Bains have had their origin in such begin-

Training the Skin.

The asual effect of a draft of cold nir upon the back of the neek is a cold and a sore throat. Many years ago Dr. Brown Sequard, an eminent French physician, devised a means by which sore throat from this cause might be prevented. By blowing upon the back of the neck with a pair of bellows, increasing the time each day, be trained his patients until they could endure this treatment for half an hour without injury.

It is not necessary to be exposed to a straft of air on the back of the neck in order to obtain this result. means of the cold bath, the wet-sheet the shower bath, towel friction, etc., the skin may be educated to contract on the slightest increase of cold. Daily exposure to the contact of cold mir is of the atmost importance. It is because of the constant exposure to old that the Indian's body is "all face" the skin of his whole body has carned to take care of itself.

To live in harmony with Nature in the fullest and truest sense is to live in harmony with God, and to live in divine harmony is to be happy.

How to Resist Old Age.

A chain is as weak as its weakest link. The body is as weak as its weakest organ. To combat the onweakest organ. ward march of old age all organs must be marshaled to harmonious resist ance. This resistance can be developed best by cultivating "reaction." This means that the body forces act against some external stimulation and overcome it. The best developer of reaction is cold—either cold air or cold baths. This must be done gradually, espe-cially if one is already weak. Cultivate the power of resistance by daily exposure to cold air. Live out of doors as much as possible. The ability to resist cold will also enable one to resist pneumonia, dyspepsia, apoplexy, diabetes, obesity, old age.

The cold morning bath is a wonder ful youth preserver. Try it. Begin carefully. At first rub face, arms and chest with the hands dipped in cold water. Then the rest of the trunk and the legs. Dry quickly and exercise for ten or fifteen minutes. In a month you will hardly know yourself. Try it.

A 480-ACRE FARM YIELDS 25 PER CENT PROFIT IN A YEAR.

What a Mercer County (Ohio) Farmer

Extracts from an interesting letter from P. H. Rynhard, of Starbuck, Manitoba, Canada, gives an excellent idea of the prosperity of those who have gone from the United States to Canada. He says:

T bought, August, 1903, 480 acres of land, paying $12,000 for it. We threshed 2,973 bushels of wheat and between 1,200 and 1,300 bushels of outs and barley from 200 acres. part of the wheat went down before filling and was not harvested except for hay. The crop was worth at threshing time, $3,000. Besides 120 acres laying lifle except a timethy meadow, which is not included in this Counting the value of the product and the increase of value of land will pay me more than 25 per cent on the investment. Two brothers in the same neighborhood bought 160 acres each six years ago. They have not done a single thing to this land except to fence it and break and cultivate about one-half of it. Harvested last year 28 bushels whost per acre. This year 27 bushels per acre They can get any day $25 per acre. These are only a few of many hun-dreds of such chances. It tooks like boasting, but truth is justifiable and the world ought to know it, especially the home-reeker. I know of quite a few farmers that have made fortunes in from 10 to 20 years, retired aith from $20,000 to $100,000.

Writing concerning another district in the Canadian West, S. L. Short says:

"Dear Sir-I have to inform you that I have just returned from the Carrot River Country in Saskatche-wan, where I located land of the very finest black vegetable loam, which I am proud of, and will move in the spring. Farmers are still plowing there. A mild climate and beautiful country to behold. Cattle are fat and running outside. Wood and water Saw oats weighing 42 pounds to bushel. Polatoes large and well ripened; also wheat that brought there $2 cents. The country exceeded my expectations. Saw cats in stock, thicker on the ground then appears in many of the illimitrations sent out in descriptive pamphlets. I have been in many western states, but the soll excels any I ever saw."

Russian Government, Although Considering Peace, Is Pushing Preparations For Continuing the War-Five Troops to be Mobilized.

Gunshu Pass, March 25 - The Jap anese have apparently withdrawn to the region south of the Russian front. Cossnell patrols which have been malding extensive reconnaissances conthward found to Japanese within thirty-five miles. General Linevitch is dispatching scouting parties cast and west, to goard against a possible turning movement.

A number of Chinese bandits have been captured, some of whom are St. Petersburg. - The impression prevails in some military circles that the Japanese, having removed possibility of the main army in Munchurin assuming the initiative, will now turn their attention to the next objective of the war. Viadivostok, is strengthened by the Associated Press dispatch from Gunshu Pass announc ing the withdrawal of the Japanese from the immediate front of the Russian army for a distance of thirty-five miles south. It is realized, of course that this may be merely a blind to cover flanking operations, but it is net improbable that the Japanese having cleared Southern Manchuria of Russian troops and secured a position from whence expulsion would be a long and difficult process, may be satisfied to held the Tie Pass without further extension of communication. While the voice of the emperor's advisers is for peace if honorable terms are obtainable, the government as is the part of wisdom, is going for ward with all provisions for the con-tinuance of the war. Preparations are reported to be making for the mobilization of five corps. It's had been understood that the guards would be retained at St. Petersburg, but some of the officers of this crack organization believe their services have been requisitioned and are making preparations to that end. There has been a regradescence of reports of a change in the head of the war office. It was stated had night in an usually well-informed source that Lieutenant General Sakharoff will leave very shortly and be succeeded by General Ridiger, now chief of the chancellery of the waroffice. It is also reported that General Polivacion will be appointed chief of the general staff. Both Polivanoff and Ridiger are of the younger school of generals, but have high regime as theoreticians and administrators, General Ridiger is the author of a number of text books

The government is advised that Chinese bandits are appearing in great numbers along the Siberian allroad and consing interference with the train service.

The internal situation is causing great anxiety, though it is said that the "intellectuals" and the educat ed classes generally disapprove of the revolutionary spirit which is permening the peasantry and laborers in Pol and.
